LEGISLATORS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT ON BALDWIN ROAD

Eugene S. Lane of Millen, With Fractured Skull, in Critical Condition in Hospital at Milledgeville.

CAR OVERTURNED BY STRIKING HOG

J. Ellis Pope, J. Leonard Rountree, Mrs. Lane and Young Son Also Are Injured.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Feb. 24. (AP)—Eugene S. Lane, of Millen, a member of the Georgia house of representatives from Jenkins county, was injured critically and four other persons were hurt, one seriously, today when their automobile struck a hog on the highway and overturned near here.

The other injured are: J. Ellis Pope, of Lyons, a member of the house from Toombs county, fractured leg and serious injuries to shoulders and other parts of body. He was in a serious condition but expected to recover.

J. Leonard Rountree, of Graymont, Summitt, member of the house from Emanuel county, cuts and bruises. Mrs. Eugene S. Lane, cuts and bruises.

Eugene S. Lane Jr., her son, cuts and bruises. The three members of the house, with Mr. Lane's wife and son, were returning to their homes from Atlanta for the week-end when the automobile, driven by Mr. Rountree, struck the hog and ran off an embankment.

Mr. Lane was operated on tonight. Doctors said the operation had been performed to relieve a hemorrhage of the brain caused by a fracture. They said the operation appeared to have been a success and they held hopes for his recovery, though his condition was still critical.

The accident happened about 6:15 o'clock, according to John Hinton, who reached the scene a minute after it happened. Mr. Hinton turned his conveyance into an ambulance and carried all the victims to the city hospital here. Later Hinton continued on to Macon.

Mr. Hinton said that Mr. Rountree was driving the car, which was carrying the occupants home from Atlanta for the week-end. As the machine struck the hog, he said, the driver appeared to have lost control of the car. The automobile turned over.

R. F. Zeigler, of Macon, happened along at the scene of the accident a minute or so after the national congress modified the Volstead law. The measure already has passed the house.

Indiana Senate Votes Repeal by 30-16 Count

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 24. (AP)—The Indiana senate today passed by a vote of 30 to 16 a bill repealing the state prohibition law and setting up machinery for the control of the sale of beer in the event the national congress modified the Volstead law. The measure already has passed the house.

G. C. ADAMS DENIES ACCEPTING MONEY FOR FARM POSTS

Commissioner, in First Statement, Said No One Was Authorized To Sell Department Jobs.

In his first statement since the investigation into alleged job-selling in his department was launched, Commissioner of Agriculture G. C. Adams Friday night vehemently denied accepting any remuneration for posts in his organization or permitting any one who associated with him in his campaign to do so.

The commissioner revealed that he had asked Senator J. T. Sisk, of Elberton, chairman of the investigating committee, for permission to go before the committee next week. The permission has been granted.

In his statement Adams asserts that "those who could not control and dictate to" him started the rumors which resulted in the inquiry.

Earlier Friday Adams announced the appointment of Judge Max L. McRae, of Macon, to be director of the bureau of markets in place of J. W. Rountree, who had been Adams' campaign manager and who admitted to the Sisk committee several days ago that he had accepted for campaign contributions with a promise of a job if the campaign for Adams was successful.

Adams' statement follows: "I ask my friends of Georgia to withhold judgment in the investigation now being held of my official acts since my election as your commissioner of agriculture. Naturally in times like these when the souls of men are being tried as never before in the history of the world, I would receive thousands of applications for positions in the department of agriculture. It is evident that I could not appoint all my friends to office.

"The inception of the rumors about jobs in the department of agriculture, granted and disappointed office seekers. There has never in the history of my tenure as commissioner of agriculture been a time when the ground was so fertile for the propagation of untruth and dissatisfaction as now. Those who could not control and dictate to me started these rumors. The committee members have been fair and considerate in the hearing. I have not appeared before the committee to make a statement in my defense until now, but I have asked the chairman, Senator Sisk, to allow me the opportunity to appear and state to the committee the true facts in this matter at a meeting next week.

"I have not only refused to accept any money for a job from anyone at any time, but have most emphatically commanded all others connected with my campaign in any way not to accept a cent from anyone for this purpose.

CONFEREES AGREE, VICTORY IS NEAR IN $3 TAG FIGHT

New Scale Not Made Public, But Low Rate for Smallest Cars Definitely Established.

Victory was near Friday night for Governor Eugene Talmadge in his long fight for a $3 automobile license tag.

The third conference committee to handle the tag measure reached agreement Friday and delayed making public only because the senate members of the committee desired a uniform for their fellow senators of the decision privately before letting the decision be announced publicly on the floor of both houses.

Weight Is Only Issue. The six members of the committee pledged themselves to secrecy, that the tag bill will provide a $3 tag for small cars but that, in order to provide revenue considered necessary to maintain the highways, the larger cars will not be given a proportionate reduction.

At present the smallest type cars pay $11.25 for a tag with the largest type cars paying $30. The smaller cars will get the $3 tag, the medium-sized vehicles a reduction of about 50 per cent and the largest cars a reduction of approximately 33 1/3 per cent.

The only issue between the conferees at present is what the weight limit will be on cars to be placed in the $3 tag class. The conferees are to meet between Monday and Monday morning and settle this minor difficulty.

The conferees bridged the widest of the gaps between the senate and the house measures at a conference Friday at the Henry Grady hotel. Representative B. Y. Dickey, of Gordon county, and Senator J. T. Sisk, of Elberton, chairman of the investigating committee, formally reported to the house just before adjournment Friday afternoon that there was every indication that a satisfactory settlement of all the differences between the two houses over the measure would be reached.

The house's first tag bill provided a $3 to $15 range for the tags while the senate's bill, a substitute for the house measure, fixed the range from $2.50 to $15. Two conference committees have failed to agree.

The conferees now handling the bill are Representatives Dickey, Harris, of Richmond county, and Scott, of Thomas county, and Senators Carithers, of Wilkes; Lovett, of Wrightsville, and Colson, of Brunswick.

Confusion in House. The senate was not in session Friday when the report of the conferees on the progress they were making was made ready but there were scenes of confusion in the house as the bill was introduced.

The fight for reconsideration of the substitute was led by Representative Paul Lindsay, of DeKalb county, opponent of Governor Talmadge, though he made it clear that he was not fighting for the senate substitute but to get it up before the house for action, not stating which way he would vote if the matter was put to a vote.

The conferees engaged in a long parliamentary argument with Speaker E. D. Rivers but the speaker finally ruled in favor of a motion by Representative Ernest M. Davis, of Mitchell county, to reconsider the bill.

Immediate Debt Talk Is Planned by Hull

Representative Lewis A. Douglas, 39, of Arizona, will leave his seat in the house to handle the budget for the Roosevelt administration. This shot, taken just after announcement of his selection, shows Douglas already deep in figures, tackling the job of getting more economy in government. He is going over papers of Swager Sherley, former member of congress, who has been working out a reorganization program for the new administration. Associated Press photo.

By F. G. VOSBURGH. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (AP)—Immediate plans for talking war debts with both France and Great Britain were disclosed tonight by Cordell Hull as he outlined for the first time the objectives of America's foreign policy under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The tall, gray-haired Tennessee senator whom Mr. Roosevelt has chosen for secretary of state told newspapermen he had an appointment with Ambassador Claudel, of France, on Monday afternoon and would see Ambassador Lindsay, of Great Britain, soon.

In his first press conference since his appointment to head the cabinet, Senator Hull emphasized the major goals of the incoming administration.

"In its foreign affairs as the restoration of world commerce and preservation of peace by 'sane and realistic international co-operation.'"

Declaring for the observance of "international good faith" by all nations, he asserted that this nation should co-operate with the rest of the world in the work of peace so far as American traditions and the constitution allow. This policy he described as "vital."

In the task of restoring normal economic relationships and rehabilitating the world commercially, he said, "the war debts owed our government are but one factor in the problem."

"The policy of international readjustment."

HENDERSON'S GUN FOUND IN WOODS WIDOW OF VICTIM BLAMED BY KILLER

Weapon Identified as That Used in Brutal West Atlanta Slaying.

Columbus Negro Says Mrs. Hunt Promised $200 for Husband's Death

Positive identification of the shotgun believed by police to have been the one used by a negro burglar in the slaying of Mrs. Sam H. Henderson and the shooting of her husband in their home off Childers drive last Saturday morning, was made late Friday afternoon by Henderson's father, A. E. Henderson, of 715 Elbert street, S. W., and Charles and Curtis Henderson, two first cousins of the wounded man.

The gun, an old style double-barreled hammer type, fully loaded, was found about four and a half miles from Henderson's home by Ben Cochran, a small boy about 10 years old, who was playing in the woods and saw the gun lying on the ground.

Cochran told police the gun apparently had been tossed only a few hours before in the woods about 50 feet from the A. B. & C. railroad tracks and about 100 yards off Wilson avenue in West End. Its finding followed reports that a negro had been offering to sell two guns, one a double and the other a single-barreled weapon, to people in the Adamsville section.

Police late Friday were engaged in an intensive search for the negro reported to have offered to sell the guns.

Henderson, whose condition at Grady remained serious, could not positively identify the weapon, though his father, who gave it to him, did not say that it rattled like his gun. Although the negro assailant was armed with another shotgun when he entered the Henderson home, Henderson has said that the shooting was done with his own gun.

Police were of the opinion that the crack in the butt of the gun, apparently the one used in the slaying, was made by a single shot.

BANK HEADS FACE CRIMINAL ACTION IN STOCK INQUIRY

National City Counsel Cites Attorney-General's Lethargy as Defense. U. S. Studies Testimony.

By NATHAN ROBERTSON. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (AP)—Striking swiftly, the federal government tonight sought to determine whether recent testimony before the senate stock market investigating committee has disclosed law violations that are open to criminal prosecution.

The justice department swung into action as the senate investigators were presented with evidence that the National City Bank of New York, forbidden by law to deal in its own securities, advanced credit for the purchase of its stock through a brokerage house. The committee also has been investigating the Insull utilities crash.

Almost simultaneously, authority to continue the investigation through the next session of congress was sought from the senate by Senator Costigan, democrat, Colorado, a member of the steering committee in charge of the inquiry which is now slated to end March 4.

Mitchell Becomes Interested. The indication that the federal government might institute criminal proceedings as a result of the testimony came in an announcement from the justice department that Attorney-General Mitchell had asked for copies of the recent testimony.

Almost simultaneously it became known that an investigation of the testimony was being made by federal authorities at New York for possible evasion of income tax laws. George Medale, district attorney, refused to discuss the inquiry and there was no information whether the grand jury would be asked to act.

Charles E. Mitchell, internationally known chairman of the National City bank, told the senate investigators early this week that in order to avoid paying an income tax in 1929 he sold stock in his bank to a relative at a loss of nearly $2,800,000. Later, he testified, he repurchased the securities.

To Examine Testimony. No mention of any specific case was made, however, either in Washington or in New York. The justice department merely announced it would examine the testimony to determine whether it reveals violations of banking, income tax or other federal laws, and whether anything that might be of use in current grand jury proceedings.

The department's announcement that the attorney-general has taken steps to obtain copies of the testimony recently given before the senate subcommittee on banking and currency, relating to the operations of various banking, utility and investment security houses.

This testimony will be examined in the department of justice to ascertain if there is anything in it which may be of use in connection with certain grand jury proceedings now under way in federal courts, or whether it reveals violations of national banking laws, federal income tax laws, or any other federal statutes.

Recent testimony before the bank-

HOPE FOR CERMAK REVIVED BY RALLY IN FACE OF DEATH

Mayor's Pulse, Temperature and Respiration Lower, Gain in Strength Amazes Physicians.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24. (AP)—Mayor Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago, late tonight mused from a sleep of two hours and 15 minutes "like a new man," and his son-in-law, Dr. Frank Jirka, said the victim of Giuseppe Zangara's bullet was "making a desperate attempt to live." His physicians announced he would survive the night and held out hope of recovery.

The final bulletin said: "Mayor Cermak is resting quietly. His condition continues relatively favorable. He has at least a fighting chance. Pulse 114, respiration 20, temperature 100."

The physician said the improvement the mayor had shown since he suffered a threatening condition during the day was "unbelievable."

Dr. Jirka said the mayor's pulse had improved in the crisis, and that "even while sleeping" he was "talking about the possibility of paying Chicago employees, especially teachers, given for the past 26 hours to buoy up the mayor's strength, were continued today.

At one time during the morning the patient's pulse raced up to 132 and it was feared that Dr. Jirka stated that the mayor's chance was a slim one. The turn for the worse after his apparent improvement in the previous day was charged to a heart weakening under the strain which has been imposed on it by Cermak's struggle for life.

Collyer, which followed the wounding of the mayor by a bullet from Zangara's pistol, has caused much concern, and earlier today the mayor's heart lagged, and in previous injections given for the past 26 hours to buoy up the mayor's strength, were continued today.

GATE CITY FALLS AS JAP OFFENSIVE GAINS FULL SPEED

Delegation's Abrupt Withdrawal From Geneva Meeting Believed To Herald Tokyo's Resignation Within Few Weeks.

CHINA MUST HOLD TWO "KEY" PASSES

Feeling Rises at Shanghai; Missionaries Are Warned; Tokyo Scores Arms Embargo Talk.

TOKYO, Feb. 25. (Saturday AP)—The war office announced that the major offensive to wrest the province of Jehol from China was being launched today.

The communique issued at noon at the war office tersely said the Japanese and Manchukuo forces "begin the general offensive" in Jehol today.

By the Associated Press. The latest developments in the Sino-Japanese conflict:

GENEVA.—The Japanese delegation at the League of Nations assembly walked out after the assembly unanimously adopted a report condemning Japan's Manchurian policy as a violation of international agreements. It was one of the most dramatic episodes in the history of the League.

TUNGCHIAO.—Troops of Manchukuo and Japan seized the city of Jehol, northeastern gateway to the province, and continued on in the direction of Jehol City, the capital.

PEIPING.—Chinese hopes of stopping the Japanese invasion of Jehol rested on the defenders of the passes through the mountains at Lingyan and Chihfeng.

SHANGHAI.—Disturbances were feared as the result of the beginning of the big Japanese drive, which intensified anti-Japanese feeling on the part of Shanghai Chinese.

CHINCHOW.—The Japanese command announced it would warn missionaries out of danger zones by dropping leaflets from airplanes, "parently there are no Americans in Jehol."

TOKYO.—Government officials characterized arms embargo reports emanating from Washington and London as "foolish talk, but with dangerous possibilities."

JAPANESE WALK OUT OF LEAGUE COUNCIL. GENEVA, Feb. 24. (AP)—The assembly of the League of Nations with unanimous voice today pronounced solemn condemnation of the Japanese Manchurian policy as a violation of international covenants, and the Japanese delegation in protest immediately withdrew from the assembly, walking out in a body.

Yusuke Matsukata, the chief Tokyo delegate, announced in rejecting the League's judgment that Japan cannot longer continue to negotiate with the Sino-Japanese differences. But he added that his government desired to continue "co-operating in the work of maintaining world peace."

The session developed one of the most intense dramas of the history of the League.

BANKRUPTCY BILL UP BEFORE SENATE

Measure Would Allow Debtor-Creditor Agreement With Court Sanction.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(UP) Relief for debt-burdened individuals and farmers, as well as their creditors, was in sight today as the senate began work on the revolutionary LaGuardia-McKeeven-Hastings bill to revise bankruptcy laws.

The house already has passed a similar relief measure. President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt favor it. This sweeping reform would permit individual debtors to enter agreements with their creditors to reduce or extend their obligations, subject to federal court ratification.

Whether relief will be extended to great corporations which are in difficulties, particularly railroads, is up to the senate. The senate judiciary committee stripped the house measure of provisions to permit large-scale corporate reorganization. Senator James Couzens, republican, Michigan, is supported by a large group on his proposed amendment to include railroads. The senate today perfected the bills, provisions relating to individuals and farmers. Some senators today expressed the view that the bill should be enacted in its simplified form, and railroad and corporation relief left to the special session.

The measure, devised to tackle the debt problem directly by readjustment downward and thus avert currency inflation, if possible, was not without its critics today as the senate began work upon it in a routine fashion.

that the conferees be given until Monday to complete their work. This motion was carried.

Conferee McWhorter. Before taking up their work Friday morning, the conferees, anxious to know how much revenue the compromise bill would bring the state for highway maintenance, spent nearly an hour in conference with Marcus McWhorter, head of the motor vehicle division of the department of revenue, and after this conference took some of Mr. McWhorter's books with them to their meeting at the Henry Grady.

It was reported Friday night that the compromise measure will yield the state approximately $1,200,000 a year. While awaiting the report of its conferee committee the house defeated by an overwhelming vote of 137 to 10 a resolution by Representative Arnall, of Covetta, and Beasley, of Tattall, to call upon the governor to suspend all ad valorem taxes for the last two years. This measure was similar to one which was tabled Thursday, the Thursday resolution asking Governor Talmadge to immediately declare a moratorium on auto license tags.

The house passed a bill providing that no garnishments can be made against wages until a judgment has been obtained against an employed person. The vote was 112 to 23. The bill was sponsored by Representative George Eckford, of Fulton county, and Representative Wilmer Lanier, of Richmond county. Amendments which would have made the measure apply only to the larger counties of the state were voted down.

In Legislative Halls

By BEN COOPER.

Efforts to reach a compromise on the proposed new city employee pension bill will be made, it was announced Friday afternoon following a hearing before local representatives in the general assembly. The new bill would require a donation of 3 per cent from the salary of each employee and 2 per cent from the city, and would make membership in the pension fund compulsory. The present pension law is an optional arrangement under which employees pay 2 per cent of their salaries. Those who appear in behalf of the bill included City Attorney James L. Mayson, Comptroller B. Graham West, Water Superintendent Zede Smith and others. The bill as drawn would exclude the following departments opposed to the measure: tax assessors' office, tax collector's office, electrical department and city clerk's office. Departments which asked to be excluded Friday were the park and construction departments and the municipal revenue collector's office. The legislators were informed that the school teachers have not acted on the proposed bill, and that it has not been before city council.

Amendments calling for a general reduction in basic salaries of the Fulton bench were adopted Friday by the senate in passing a house bill cutting pay of the judges of Atlanta circuit. The bill as amended provides for the following salaries: judges of superior court, from $12,000 to $9,000 a year; judge of city court, $8,000 a year; judge of county court, $7,500 a year; judges of municipal court, $6,000 a year, and judge of juvenile court, $5,000 a year. The bill was offered in the house by the Fulton delegation, Still, Eckford and Hartfield, and was amended by Senator Walter A. Sims. The original bill covered salaries of the superior court only.

The Sims bill, containing a number of changes in procedure of municipal court of Atlanta, relating to certiorari and other features, was transmitted Friday by the senate and Recovery of the missing bill to

Cut in Mayor's Term Is Approved by House

The house Tuesday passed a bill to cut the length of the term of the mayor of Atlanta from four to two years. The measure does not go into effect until the completion of the present four-year term of Mayor James L. Key.

Another bill, providing for the creation of an Atlanta budget commission, was approved by the house. The bill provides that the commission shall be composed of the mayor, city comptroller and two members of council, and that the budget shall be drawn up on December 1.

A number of city department heads and employees conferred Friday afternoon with members of the Fulton and DeKalb delegations on a new city pension act for employees outside the city and police departments. No decision was reached at the conference.

Elder Boettcher Awaits Son's Return

DENVER, Feb. 24.—(AP)—A tense atmosphere pervaded the palatial home of Charles Boettcher, Colorado multi-millionaire, and police headquarters as the "zero hour" for the return of Charles Boettcher II, by his kidnappers grew nearer tonight. Except for the mysterious activities of three federal operatives and the collapse of police cases against three suspects, little else was accomplished toward solution of the abduction of the 31-year-old investment broker for $800,000 ransom.

A grand jury investigation that started with the questioning of Chief of Police A. T. Clark was postponed. In the rich Boettcher home, the father paced the floor anxiously to receive from the kidnappers word that his son would be released unharmed by midnight Saturday, the deadline he set in statement of warning to the abductors.

Suicide Follows Death Of Junior League Head

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Claude V. Allen, 46, said by police to have been the last person to see Miss Mary Fitzgerald, Tacoma Junior League president, before her mysterious death by drowning in the sound early this week, committed suicide in his home here tonight.

Allen was found by his wife in the kitchen of his home sitting in front of a gas stove with the burners turned on but not ignited. A bathrobe was draped over his head and the top of the stove.

Mrs. Allen said she had been gone only 15 minutes. A love bird and a dog in the kitchen were only slightly affected.

Miss Fitzgerald's body was found at Woodmont Beach between here and Seattle, police learned that she had called at the Allen home before she disappeared. Both Mr. and Mrs. Allen declared that the visit was of a friendly nature.

Reed Moves To Expel Independent Bolters

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania said tonight in a campaign against the republican caucus in the senate to expel from the party rolls the independents who supported Franklin D. Roosevelt in November.

G. C. ADAMS DENIES ACCEPTING MONEY FOR FARM POSTS

muneration for a job, or authorized any one else to do so, or by deed or word left the impression that it might be done in my behalf, makes a deliberate and willful misstatement of the truth, and I do now in the most vigorous manner possible denounce such tactics and maintain as distasteful and not in the interest of good government."

Adams himself was named by Mrs. C. H. Terry, a campaign contributor through Chester McLendon, as having confirmed an agreement she made with McLendon to obtain a place for her daughter in return for a campaign contribution and personal service as a campaigner.

Commissioner Adams is expected to be called upon to explain his cashing of three of the state highway bonds of the committee, two from Mrs. Terry and one from J. P. Yarbrough, an assistant in the chemistry division, who made a contribution toward paying the post-election expenses of the Adams organization. This check is alleged to have been given through Raintree.

Adams highly praised the public record of Judge McRae in making an announcement of his appointment. "No agent of the state government is of more importance to the farmer than the department of agriculture," Mr. Adams said. "In Judge McRae we have obtained a man who is well and favorably known to every farmer in Georgia. I know that the people will work with him and that by this co-operation great good will be done for the farmers of our state."

It was learned that Judge McRae accepted the post after being urged to do so by Governor Eugene Talmadge and that though the appointment is permanent he plans to keep the place only temporarily. He has been among those mentioned for a place on the state highway commission in the event the governor is successful in his effort to reorganize that body. Two bills providing highway department reorganization are now before the legislature.

Judge McRae, a native of McRae, is 57 years old. He has been connected with the department of agriculture since Talmadge became commissioner in 1927, having served for some time a director of the market bureau. Because of his wide acquaintance with the farmers of the state and because of his wide knowledge of the department's functions, he was retained by Adams as a field agent when he took office on January 2.

YOUTHS RUINING STICKUP BUSINESS, VETERAN FEARS

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—(AP)—From Frank Bourk's point of view, as reported, by the police, the stickup business isn't all that he feels it should be.

The principal trouble, he complained, was that too many boys with bad morals get into it, and he spoke from first-hand experience. The police said, because he confessed participation in 200 robberies. Three of his alleged companions were also held. "These boys," the police quoted him as saying in reference to his companions, "weren't much good. John Harbut was too afraid. John Lancia was a good man, but he used to short change me. The other one, Walter Vanover, always was hoping he'd get to kill somebody."

2 Men, Fishing in Boat, Joined by Big Tarpon

FORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Louis Van Order, of Pompton Lakes, N. J., and Lewis B. Curtis, of Bridgeport, Conn., were fishing from a small boat here today. Both got tarpon strokes at almost the same instant.

That's a lot of action for two men in a small boat but that is not all. At the height of the exciting play a third tarpon leaped into the craft.

Between moments of trying to subdue the fish on their lines, they managed to subdue their 105-pound shipmate with an emergency tiller. They landed their other catches, too, one of them a 120-pounder and the other weighing 108 pounds.

The exhausted anglers reported to the Rod and Gun Club tonight and the play was scored as "two strikes, one foul, side retired."

way, who will be in charge of it, announced. He has been a shoe store executive and stylist for more than 15 years.

Present location has been occupied by a shoe store for the past 30 years, and was chosen by Mr. Hadaaway for its convenient location in the Whitehall shopping area.

One of the most complete shoe stocks in the south has been installed, affording every range of size, Mr. Hadaaway said, and handsome fixtures have been installed.

The personnel has been chosen for proficiency in fitting, he said. Departments for full-fashioned slippers, hosiery and bags will be maintained.

Sam Price, Mr. Hadaaway's assistant, has been with him for more than 15 years. Previously he was with I. Miller in New York, and owned a store in Louisiana.

EXTRADITION CHANGES SOUGHT BY MITCHELL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Attorney-General Mitchell today initiated a move to strengthen the nation's extradition treaties, plugging loopholes through which he said Samuel Insull and others have evaded return to the United States after moving abroad.

Although revision will take some time, he hoped that if present efforts to amend the treaties, plugging loopholes through which he said Samuel Insull and others have evaded return to the United States after moving abroad.

The attorney-general conferred with Secretary Straton, state department official, on the matter. One of the loopholes, he said, relate to men wanted for using the mails to defraud.

Several stock promotion men sought by the government have escaped to foreign countries, but he did not name them.

CAROLINA ASSEMBLY CURBS HIGHWAY BONDS

Only Issues To Refund Indebtedness Proposed by House.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—South Carolina's lawmakers returned to their homes for the week-end after a final fling at a number of problems today and with the senate finance committee prepared to begin work on the general appropriation bill.

A scotch to the $85,000,000 highway program of 1929 was proposed by the house, which passed without comment a bill to prevent issuance of further highway bonds except to refund present indebtedness. Approximately $25,000,000 has been issued under the program in bonds and notes.

Motorists who have not purchased their 1933 license plates were given another extension, but for how long was not determined. The legislature approved a resolution asking extension of the final date from tomorrow to March 7. Highway officials said the extension would continue "until further notice."

Governor Blackwood announced late today he had signed an act ratifying a constitutional amendment changing the beginning of the fiscal year from January 1 to July 1.

ALABAMA HOUSE KILLS INAUGURAL VACATION

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 24.—(AP)—A joint resolution to adjourn the Alabama special session legislature until March 7 and permit members to attend the Roosevelt inauguration in Washington was blocked by the house today after the senate had adopted the measure unanimously.

The question of prohibition repeal was injected into the day's proceedings in both houses. Senator J. M. Mullins, of Tallapoosa county, introduced a bill calling for a state convention here August 1 to consider the prohibition amendment submitted to the state by congress. Representative George Sossamon, of Mobile, who has a similar bill up for final passage, called on the Alabama supreme

MEMPHIS TREASURER RESIGNS IN SHAKEUP

Overton Reveals Further Irregularities in Books of City.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Political circles here were rocked today when Mayor Watkins Overton announced the forced resignation of J. H. (Jack) Hesse, city treasurer for 15 years.

The mayor charged Hesse had failed to make satisfactory explanation for a number of checks paid into his office by utility companies, totaling $7,000, which the mayor said were not properly credited.

Hesse's resignation came two months after that of his former superior, A. E. (Tony) Walsh, who resigned as city finance commissioner last December.

Mayor Overton's statement revealed purported irregularities totaling approximately $57,000 since he ordered a thorough investigation into all departments of the municipal government late in December.

Representative E. H. Crump, whose political organization controls both the city and county governments here, long has boasted of the honesty of Memphis and Shelby county officials, and Mayor Overton said he was anxious to make his investigation a sweeping one.

HENDERSON'S GUN IS FOUND IN WOODS

ently a fresh one, occurred when it was thrown into the woods after the report spread of a negro offering to sell the two weapons.

Lieutenant W. A. Wells said he received a telephone call from C. E. Hulme, a Gordon road address, early Friday morning that a negro had attempted to pawn the two guns with negroes in his neighborhood and that he had been shot at by a white man. Investigation proved that the negro fleeing from the shooting had run up the path near which the murder gun was found, at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

While hunting for the negro the county police discovered Willie B. Singleton, another negro, hiding in a ditch and a 22-caliber rifle lying near at hand in the ditch. He professed ignorance of the rifle.

On investigation the county police found that the negro answered to a description of one of a pair of negroes who participated in a holdup in Cobb county early Friday morning and that the gun answered to the description of one stolen by a burglar in Cobb county early Thursday night. Singleton was later turned over to the Cobb county authorities.

Singleton, before being turned over to the Cobb county authorities, was taken to Grady hospital but Henderson said he was positive, police said, that he wasn't the negro who shot him.

For the purpose of planning close co-operation with the police, in continuing the hunt for the Henderson slayer, a mass meeting has been called for 8 o'clock on the outside of West End for 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Cascade Heights High school. George F. Longino, chairman, and J. A. Ragsdale, a member of the county board of commissioners, have been invited to attend the meeting.

While Henderson, shot through the shoulders, remained in a serious condition at the hospital, his two-year-old son showed continued signs of improvement and was anxious to be up and playing.

ARTIST FOUND SLAIN IN CAR NEAR TAMPA

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Walter Collins, widely known artist and painter, was found dead early today in his automobile near his home at Social Avenue and 10 miles east of Tampa. Deputy Sheriff Walter Barnett, who examined the body, said Collins had been shot four times at close range. He said he did not believe that Collins had committed suicide.

Banker, Editor Recommend Drastic Measures for Relief

Government Plan Dis- counted by Utah Finan- cier; Philadelphia Pub- lisher Scoffs Effort To Balance Budget.

By DON J. KIRKLEY.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(P)—An out-of-control young banker from the west—Maurice S. Eccles, of Ogden, Utah—discounted before the senate finance committee today what the government has done to bring back better times, and advocated a program so sweeping that he said it might "frighten those of our people who possess wealth."

Special Trial Size Vicks Antiseptic Almost All Gone

But Local Druggists Are Selling
Regular Size—75c Value for Only 35c—On Money-Back Guarantee.

NEW BAN ON HALITOSIS

Local druggists are introducing a new antiseptic which does everything that a mouth-wash or gargle can and should do—at half the usual price of other quality antiseptics. It is made by the makers of Vicks VapoRub. The name of it is Vicks Vortone Antiseptic.

Of course, the only real proof of its quality and amazing economy is actual use. To furnish this proof, Vicks Chemists supplied to druggists—at least than cost—5 million special trial bottles—a 25c value for 10c. These trial bottles have gone so quickly that this offer is now made:

If your druggist's supply of the trial size is exhausted, get one of the regular size bottles—75c value—for only 35c. Use it a week. Unless you are delighted with it, your money will be returned.

Mild Enough, Strong Enough
No extravagant claims are made for Vicks Antiseptic. It is simply the best oral antiseptic Vicks Chemists could produce—aided by the chemists, bacteriologists, and pharmacologists of their 16 allied organizations here and in Europe.

They created a balanced antiseptic—mild enough to be used day and night without risk to delicate membranes; yet strong enough to do everything that an oral antiseptic can and should do.

For All Customary Uses

You can use Vicks Antiseptic in your customary way, for bad breath (halitosis); as a gargle; as a mouth-wash; as an antiseptic lotion; and for all the other usual uses.

And Vicks Antiseptic has this additional unique advantage...

...born in a depression year, it is priced accordingly—saving you half!—(adv.)

and W. Mont Ferry, of Salt Lake City, pleading for rehabilitation of silver, added their views for the committee's consideration.

"We did not talk of balancing the budget during the World War," Stern told the committee. To get more funds into circulation through consumers, he suggested advancement by the government of 50 per cent of the deposits in closed banks; federal construction activities costing $5,000,000; amending the Home Loan Bank system so loans could be made direct to home owners; enlargement of unemployment relief steps and advancing of 50 per cent of the $9,000,000 owed on farm mortgages.

Eccles, just beyond 40, smilingly told the committee "I'm a capitalist." He presented an emergency program, and a future policy calling for more equitable distribution of wealth through a unification of the banking system under the supervision of the federal reserve bank, and a high income and inheritance tax to control capital accumulation; national anti-child labor, minimum wage, unemployment and old age pension laws, and a national planning board to co-ordinate public and private activities in the economic world.

For immediate measures, Eccles advocated in his five-point program: Direct grant of $500,000,000 to the states for unemployment relief until the end of the year; increasing government funds for public works and self-liquidating projects from $1,500,000,000 to $2,500,000,000.

SEVEN MEN HELD IN ALLEGED EFFORT TO LOOT GRAVE

ASHLAND, Miss., Feb. 24.—(P)—A weird tale of jewels that lay in a grave and of the slinking figures that sought them with pick and shovel will be written in court records of Marshall county.

Seven men, four of them negroes, have been arrested on charges of grave robbing. Arthur Dickerson and his two sons, Earle and Wayne, have been released on bond. The negroes were held at the Holly Springs jail in default of bond while another negro was sought.

The story of the jewels is legend in Marshall county—one of those tales told over and over again when negro farmer families gather around their cabin doorsteps at bedtime.

It relates, with details that have been added with telling, how the wealthy planter, Arthur Hull, died and was buried in the little cemetery on his plantation 3 years ago. Some of the jewels, the stories say, were sealed in the big copper casket with the body.

As the stories of the buried riches passed from one cabin to another until there was a cotton picker in Marshall county that hadn't heard them, the Hull family denied that any of the family gems were in the casket.

Poole Leads Voting

For Pension Board

Assistant Chief A. Lamar Poole led the voting Friday night in the election in which he and Patrolman F. A. Newport and Captain A. J. Holcomb were named for the vacancies on the board of police pensions. It was one of the hottest contests in recent years. Chief Poole

Pope Says Capitalism Is Not God's Friend

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 24.—Pope Pius XI today declared that "capitalism is not among God's friends."

The pope, addressing a group of Italian priests who had just completed a course in dealing with properties of ecclesiastical bodies, said: "Everything, including earthly things, must be administered well because the church's property tends to support the supernatural life."

"Earthly things are despisable as such. God gives and takes them, regardless of where they fall. On the other hand, God's Son chose poverty during His life on earth."

"Capitalism is not among God's friends. Nevertheless, God, after accepting offers from shepherds, also accepted those from kings. Therefore, do not disdain material things, providing they serve the great aim for which He came to the earth, namely, the glory of God and salvation of souls."

American Aviation Firm Denies Japs' Admittance
BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 24.—(UP)—The Glenn L. Martin Company recently refused representatives of a Tokyo firm Thursday. It was emphasized that no unpleasantness occurred when inspection was denied.

The Martin company is constructing 40 new bombing planes for the United States army air corps. Officials explained that during this construction no one was allowed admittance unless he held a war department pass. The said this ruling applied to Americans as well as to foreigners.

Two representatives of a Nagoya (Japan) aircraft concern sought admission last Wednesday, officials said, and two representatives of a Tokyo firm Thursday. It was emphasized that no unpleasantness occurred when inspection was denied.

Reece's Strong Box Gives Up $22,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(P)—Twenty-two thousand dollars in cash taken by officials here from a safe deposit box said to have been rented by L. L. Reece, brother of Joseph L. Reece, former Tennessee insurance commissioner, was impounded tonight pending a court order for its surrender to officials of that state.

The box in a Washington bank, rented in the name of W. H. Myers, was opened under a search warrant and the contents—14 bills of $1,000 denomination, and 16 of $500 each—were taken out by John J. Clarkson, deputy United States marshal.

Macon Man Wounded By Mystery Bullet

MACON, Ga., Feb. 24.—(P)—Ed G. Fields, 35, ill-dressed machinist, who was taken to a private hospital tonight with a bullet wound in his back, told police that someone fired on him through a closed window while he was talking to Mr. and Mrs. E. Hatcher in the living room.

Five Armed Negroes Get $73 in Robbery

Five negroes, each armed with two pistols, held up the Yates & Milton pharmacy, 707 West Fair street, early Saturday morning and escaped with $73, according to police reports. A postoffice substitution located in the store was not molested. Five customers in the store were held at bay by the negroes and only the money in the cash registers was taken, it was said.

Murder in Sky Is Linked With Plot To Steal Airplane for Robber Gang

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Feb. 24.—(P)—A police theory that a youthful student flyer had slain his instructor during a practice flight in order to obtain possession of an airplane for use by a gang of robbers today led to the detention of 12 men.

The student, Erin McCall, 21, shot and killed himself late yesterday at San Benito, Texas, after landing the plane, containing the body of Lehman Nelson, the instructor. Nelson, with a bullet wound in the back of the head, was in the front cockpit of the plane.

Reorganization Plan Endangered in Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(P)—The senate today cast the whole democratic federal reorganization and economy program into a state of extreme uncertainty by rejecting, 38 to 36, the partial conference agreement on the $80,000,000 treasury-post-office appropriation bill.

PHILADELPHIA MAYOR DISMISSES POLICE HEAD

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—(P)—Mayor J. Hampton Moore today dismissed Kern Dodge as director of the department of public safety, an office in which many other directors have had stormy careers.

The action was not unexpected as there had been reports for the last 10 months that the mayor and the director had been at odds.

Today the mayor asked Dodge to resign but the director refused, declaring that he would trouble the mayor to discharge him. His removal from office quickly followed.

Two Negro Youths Arrested in Holdup

Caught with the aid of bloodhounds, two 18-year-old negro youths were being held Friday night in Fulton tower under $5,000 bond on charges of robbery. They gave their names as Wesley Thomas and Dennis Cooper, of Bagley Park.

Police said they held up the grocery store of John A. Jones on Pharr road, Friday afternoon, and obtained $6 in cash. They used a blank cartridge pistol, it was said. Thomas was arrested in the woods near Plaster avenue off Piedmont road, after he had been chased by county bloodhounds directed by county police. Cooper escaped from the dogs but was later arrested on Decatur street.

AGED CIVIL WAR VET DIES IN CONNECTICUT

EASTON, Conn., Feb. 24.—(P)—Daniel Davis, 95, Civil War veteran and believed to be the oldest Mason in the United States, died at his home here Thursday. ## Inflation Will Be Opposed by New Secretary of Treasury, Washington Believes.

By FRANK I. WELLER.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—On his reputation as a "sound currency" advocate William H. Woodin's selection for the treasury post in the new administration has caused capital circles to discuss possible use of war debt negotiations to bring about stabilization of foreign currencies.

With some 40 nations off the gold standard and many economists holding that American exports are practically paralyzed by the high exchange rate of the dollar, and with the products of depreciated currency countries hurdling American tariffs, there has arisen agitation for domestic currency inflation, tariff revision upward

Cordell Hull, new secretary of state, has ardently advocated that this country take the lead in proposing a 10 percent horizontal tariff reduction, to be joined in by other countries, rather than encourage additional world trade barriers by raising the Hawley-Smoot rates.

If Woodin's "sound currency" views oppose inflation, and if the two key cabinet posts are able to influence congress, some observers argue that only world monetary stabilization is left to cure the international ills.

economic recovery than the possible bartering of debt reduction for tariff concessions. Proponents, however, have presented no definite agenda and still are confronted by Great Britain's attitude that the time is not ripe for her return to the gold standard.

It is the British argument that the low world price level, the insecurity of trade relations, and the uncertainty to trade and the competition of neighbors with depreciated currency make it quite possible that if she returned to the gold standard she might have to desert it again with greater harm than before.

If the world price level were to rise sufficiently, however, British leaders say, an attempt very likely would be made to switch.

Some United States officials profess to be less concerned about the parity positions of foreign exchange than with its stabilization at some definite point. The fluctuations of the last year are held to

Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, says that in the past year are held to have impaired confidence in international contracts and retarded commerce. There has been a feeling in some quarters that if the debt pressure were eased debtor nations might turn with more security to the task of fortifying monetary units.

The result, he says, is that costs of production and prices in gold-standard

Until the costs of production and prices of some of the American commodities are further reduced or some tariff adjustments made, Klein asserts, imports probably will tend to supply an increasing proportion of domestic needs.

So far, he says, there has been no flood of foreign imports. The total quantity of imports in 1932 was 20 percent less than in 1931 and 39 percent smaller than in 1929. Of the 1932 total only 60 percent (by value) was from depreciated currency countries, and that represented only an 18 percent increase in the total value of

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 24.—(P)—Evidence that neutrons are elementary particles of matter and not combinations of electrons and protons was reported Thursday night by Yale University as a result of experiments conducted by Dr. Franz N. D. Kurie. "His experiments," the university reported, "indicate that the neutron

Because the neutron does not carry an electrical charge, it can pass through various materials without affecting its particles and without leaving a trail as do electrons or pro-

"This led to the assumption," the university announcement said, "that the neutron must be a combination of the two primary forms of matter, the electrical charge thus being neutralized.

"Dr. Kurie's experiments with neutrons do not confirm either of these theories, and he concludes that the neutron is not built according to either of the accepted models."

SATURDAY FACE POETS TONIGHT AT SAVANNAH

Lanier Beats Gordon, 48-46, While Tech High Wins, 48-34.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Lanier High's plucky poets, who battled to a 48-46 victory over Gordon Institute in an overtime period, and Tech High, who smothered Monroe Aggies, 48-34, entered the finals of the G. L. A. basketball tournament here tonight.

Lanier's victory was one of the most sensational games of the tournament. Trailing 10 points with only eight minutes to go in the final quarter, the poets fought their way to a 44-44 tie as the gun cracked, Cecil Smith shooting the last two field goals that gave the Macouteles life.

In the extra period, Rickerson caged a pair by shooting while running under the basket full speed.

Monroe put up a fairly stiff resistance in the first half but they lost out when Tech settled down to smooth basketball in the final half. Pittman and Perkins played a sensational game for Tech.

Lanier and Tech High play for the championship at 9 o'clock tomorrow night.

'INSTALLMENT' PAYING OF SCHOOL FUND URGED

Bridges Would Have Board Paid as City Revenue Is Received

Proposals calling for payment of 30 per cent of the actual receipts of the city as they are received and for empowering the board of education to make its own loans independent of the mayor and council, were advanced Friday by Councilman G. Dan Bridges, a member of the finance committee of council, as a solution of the middle into which municipal finances have been precipitated through enactment of a charter amendment forcing allocation of 30 per cent to schools.

The Bridges plan has at least the tacit approval of Mayor James L. Key, who has always maintained that the school department should raise and expend its own revenue and thus be independent of council. Under present provisions, it is impossible entirely to divorce the board from council, but the board could be empowered to negotiate its own financing, it was believed.

Bridges' suggestion came as a special joint committee from the council finance committee and the current expenditures committee of the board began a study of school finances with a view of evolving a plan to minimize the salary cuts to non-school employees, made necessary by increasing of the school allocation to $317,000, the amount of revenue from 26 per cent of the revenue to 30 per cent.

If the Bridges plan is approved, 30 per cent of the receipts of the city would be turned over periodically to schools to be administered as the board of education shall direct.

INSURANCE POLICIES SHOW NO DEFLATION

In a year when business statements are far from cheering, the published experience of life insurance makes heartening reading.

While other investments have proved disappointing, every policy held in the life insurance companies is still worth one hundred cents on the dollar, with substantial additions in accumulating dividends.

The steady flow of insurance funds into productive industry is one of the greatest mainstays of business today. But few realize the extent of this financial support in the case of individuals. Payments to policy holders and their dependents during the year, for instance, by the Sun Life of Canada, whose statement appears in another column, climbed to over $108,000,000.

A portion of this represents money that the assured could obtain only on the value of their policies to meet the special exigencies of a distressing period.

These and other conditions during the past three or four years have subjected life insurance companies to a most exacting test.

Yet, during the three years in question, the business of the Sun Life Company increased by near five hundred million dollars and its assets by 43 million dollars. The number of its policy holders increased, during that period, by over two hundred thousand and now amounts to nearly a million.

One explanation of the ability of an insurance company to meet all its obligations under such trying conditions is that its obligations are so scientifically estimated that it is able to provide for all expenditures out of ordinary revenue. This renders it unnecessary to dispose of assets during a period of depressed prices, and makes the fluctuation of security prices a matter of no special concern.

The report of the Sun Life refers to the fact that the total of its assurance in force—nearly three billion dollars—will be payable during the present generation.

MARATHON TO START ITS "GRIND" TONIGHT

The first real test of the endurance of the dancers will be given tonight when the "grind" will be put on from 7 to 11 o'clock at the marathon at the Palais Peachtree.

During this period there will be no rest periods for the dancers. They will have to keep moving continuously for four hours, other wise they will be eliminated.

The elimination has not been as large as was expected. A total of 47 couples is left on the floor. Already the audience, composed of many regulars, is picking its favorite dancers.

The crowds are increasing. Friday night it was reported by officials that the hall, with a seating capacity of about 4,000, was full by 9 o'clock and that long lines were on the outside, waiting for a chance to get in.

MRS. H. E. DELESHAW SUCCUMBS TO POISON

Poison taken a week ago caused the death early Friday morning of Mrs. H. E. Deleshaw, 30, of 806 Warner street, S. W. The woman was admitted to Grady hospital suffering from a slow-acting poison and was thought to have been recovering until Thursday night, when her condition became worse.

She is survived by her husband; a daughter, Dorothy Mae Hunt; her father, W. L. Plumley; and four brothers and two sisters. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Harrison Road church, Egan, Ga., and interment will be in the College Park cemetery.

Brandon, Bond & Condon in charge.

FOUR MEN DISAPPEAR IN GULF OF MEXICO

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Four men were missing in the Gulf of Mexico today after their boat was found overturned three miles off shore. E. L. Adler, fish market operator here, and three other men, whose names were not learned by authorities, set out in their boat last Saturday to be gone three days. Adler's wife became alarmed when they failed to return and asked the coast guard and naval station airplanes institute a search.

A seaplane located the overturned boat today, landed near by, but found no trace of the men.

STUDENTS ARE SAVED WHEN BUS OVERTURNED

LAUREL, Miss., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Twenty-five students of the Myrick Consolidated school, near here, and three teachers in the school escaped drowning but suffered varying injuries today when the school bus in which they were riding plunged over an embankment and overturned in three feet of swamp water.

The school children ranged in ages from 5 to 18 years. All were trapped in the overturned bus, but Fred Blackledge, one of the teachers, managed to break a panel on the up side and with the aid of older students removed the smaller children, one by one.

Mr. Jones will hold similar meetings in Memphis, Dallas and Nashville in the interest of world-wide missions. His books, "Christ of the In-Juan Road," "Christ of the Round Table," "Christ of Every Road," and "Christ of the Mount," have been translated into every tongue in the world, church leaders recalled.

ZANGARA MEMBER OF ANARCHY GANG, SAYS G.H. BRODINAX

Investigation of the Miami incident, involving the Zangara attempt to shoot President-elect Roosevelt, has revealed that the Italian is a member of a gang of anarchists with widespread connections, George H. Brodinax, secret service operative in charge of the Atlanta district, said Friday on his return to this city.

Mr. Brodinax, one of the first to reach Zangara after the shooting, told of the excitement which prevailed when the anarchist's bullets sprayed the crowd and said that Roosevelt "never once gave thought to his own danger, but had his whole mind on helping Mayor Cermak."

JURY TAKES NO ACTION ON ELLIS HEALTH LAW

Fulton grand jury Friday night took no action on the Ellis health law for the county. The law may be placed into effect in any county in the state by approval and recommendation of two successive grand juries.

The jury was in special session on the matter all of the afternoon and heard from various members of the board of health who appeared by invitation. During the morning several members of the county commission went before the jury on the same matter. The law would create a health department separate from the county government and require that a full-time trained physician be placed at the head of it under the title of health commissioner.

Paraguayan President Asks War on Bolivia

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Feb. 24.—(AP)—President Eusebio Ayala sent a message to congress today asking a declaration of war against Bolivia. The president's message said a declaration of war would enable other South American countries to establish their neutrality. This was interpreted in some quarters as indicating hope that Argentina, Chile, Peru and Brazil would blockade Bolivia.

Declaring that a state of war already existed in fact, the message said: "In giving official status to the existing situation Paraguay fulfills her duties toward her sister nations, especially her neighbors whose attitude may thus be defined in accordance with customary traditions and principles."

NEW BUCKET TYPE INVENTED IN ATLANTA

The Bailey-Burrus Company, of Atlanta, announced on Friday that it had applied for patents on a new type of continuous bucket which they claimed would revolutionize the bucket industry and make Atlanta a bucket center.

The new bucket, its makers said, makes the old one obsolete for the handling of sand, gravel, fertilizer, crushed stone, cement and other products.

FAILURE TO BURY MULE LANDS NEGRO IN COURT

John Riley, a negro, was placed under a four months' suspended sentence by Judge Jesse M. Wood in criminal court of Atlanta Friday for placing a dead mule on a lot of another man in old Campbell county near Fairburn and not burying it as required by law. The charge was brought by the county board of health, which announced that a drive is being conducted against persons who dispose of their garbage and dead animals contrary to law.

Thousands of Jig-Saw Fans Want That Washington Trip

By THE JIG-SAW EDITOR.
It seems as if there are literally thousands and thousands of jig-saw fans in Atlanta who want to go to Washington to attend the inauguration.

Following the announcement of the two free trips to Washington in Friday's Constitution, the telephone started ringing, and contestants called in person. Inadvertently, in making up the various pages of Friday's newspaper, two of the jig-saw pieces were printed back to back, thus causing some little confusion; however, most very jig-saw fan knew the easiest way to overcome that small obstacle. They went next door and borrowed their neighbor's Constitution, and if the neighbor happened to be working on the puzzle, too, it was an easy matter to call at The Constitution office and get a reprint of all the pieces.

For your information, in case the puzzle that you are piecing together becomes slightly misshapen, extra copies of the entire 39 pieces can be obtained without cost at The Constitution office.

From first observation this Free Trip-to-Washington contest will prove to be one of the most popular jig-saw puzzles published by The Constitution.

The puzzle is a photograph from an old print of General Washington arriving in New York by boat for his inauguration and is indeed a beautiful puzzle, which lends itself splendidly to jig-saw solution.

If any contestant for this Free Trip to Washington desires further information, The Jig-Saw Editor will be pleased to give it by telephone or in person.

MONTHLY COLLECTION OF CITY TAXES VETOED

Mayor James L. Key Friday vetoed a proposal to force the municipality to institute a monthly collection of municipal taxes instead of the present quarterly system, and Alderman Alvin L. Richards, author, said he would seek approval of another measure providing for payment in 10 installments.

Key and administration leaders decided at a conference in the executive offices that as nearly an equal distribution of the collections as possible is desirable, but that the Richards plan would carry two months of the 12 payments of any one year into the succeeding year. This, he said, would work an especial hardship on municipal finances at this time.

Paraguayan President Asks War on Bolivia

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Feb. 24.—(AP)—President Eusebio Ayala sent a message to congress today asking a declaration of war against Bolivia. The president's message said a declaration of war would enable other South American countries to establish their neutrality. This was interpreted in some quarters as indicating hope that Argentina, Chile, Peru and Brazil would blockade Bolivia.

Declaring that a state of war already existed in fact, the message said: "In giving official status to the existing situation Paraguay fulfills her duties toward her sister nations, especially her neighbors whose attitude may thus be defined in accordance with customary traditions and principles."

NEW BUCKET TYPE INVENTED IN ATLANTA

The Bailey-Burrus Company, of Atlanta, announced on Friday that it had applied for patents on a new type of continuous bucket which they claimed would revolutionize the bucket industry and make Atlanta a bucket center.

The new bucket, its makers said, makes the old one obsolete for the handling of sand, gravel, fertilizer, crushed stone, cement and other products.

FAILURE TO BURY MULE LANDS NEGRO IN COURT

John Riley, a negro, was placed under a four months' suspended sentence by Judge Jesse M. Wood in criminal court of Atlanta Friday for placing a dead mule on a lot of another man in old Campbell county near Fairburn and not burying it as required by law. The charge was brought by the county board of health, which announced that a drive is being conducted against persons who dispose of their garbage and dead animals contrary to law.

Blow Restores Speech To Negro, Savior Flees

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(AP) Roland A. Wright, negro, came to police headquarters today looking for a friend he wanted to thank for knocking him unconscious "last night."

The story that Roland related was that seven years ago he became deaf and dumb because of a blow on the head in a boxing bout.

Last night he was waving his hands in a silent dispute with a friend when the latter struck him. When Wright regained consciousness and gave vocal expression to his anger, the friend disappeared rapidly.

Now Wright would like to tell him how much he appreciates the blow, but the friend has not been seen since the dumb man spoke.

TWO HOOSIERS KILLED IN COAL MINE BLAST

CLINTON, Ind., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Two men were killed in a dynamite explosion in the Dering No. 6 coal mine, six miles south of here, early today.

John Robertson and Matthew Waudrope were crushed under falling debris when a shot they had come down to inspect let go before they could reach the top of the shaft.

Warmer, Rainy Day Forecast for Atlanta

After a partially cloudy day Friday and some rain Friday night, the skies are to start weeping in earnest in Atlanta today, according to George Minding. United States meteorologist. Warmer temperatures of Friday night are to continue and today's maximum will be possibly as high as 70 degrees.

The temperature Friday ranged from a low of 50 degrees to a high of 62 degrees. The lowest predicted for today will be 54 degrees. The rain slated for today, however, may possibly be over by Sunday, Mr. Minding said.

Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt Chooses Blue Outfit For the Inauguration

By LORENA A. HICKOK.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today had her last fitting of the gown she will wear to her husband's inauguration as president, and at the same time "Anna Blue," named after her daughter, Anna Roosevelt Dall, was introduced to the world of textiles.

Mrs. Roosevelt's hat, wrap and purse are "Anna Blue," which is a dark blue, a trifle lighter than navy. The gown is of the color that was named for herself, "Eleanor Blue," and is of crystal velvet. It is a one-piece gown with a peplum front and rolled neckline with a narrow insert of white mouseline de soie. It has a V-neckline, rather high, and a double draped surplice, which gives a jacket effect. At the belt Mrs. Roosevelt plans to wear a jeweled buckle, given her by her husband's godmother many years ago.

The sleeves are puffed from the elbow to the wrist, which is edged with the white mouseline de soie. The skirt bottom is 10 inches from the floor, and the skirt has straight lines, slightly flared at the bottom.

Her wrap is three-quarter length in "Anna Blue" velvet. The sleeves are puffed at the elbows and tapered to the wrists. It has epaulettes shoulder bands, and a scarf shirred at the neck.

Mrs. Roosevelt's hat is of "Anna Blue" crystal Milan straw, of a sailor type. It has a band of grosgrain ribbon across the shallow crown and a bow of the ribbon at the back, which has been slightly raised and cut out.

She will carry an envelope purse of "Anna Blue" velvet and will wear white glove kid gloves eight-button length. Her shoes will be dark blue kid pumps.

Baptist Worker Speaks Monday

Miss Emma Leachman, southern Baptist field representative, who will speak to members of the W. M. S. at 11 o'clock Monday morning, February 27, at the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church, as a feature of the program for the day of prayer for home missions.

College Park Music Club Board Meeting

The executive board of the College Park Music Club met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. D. M. Berry, with Mrs. Raymond Williams as co-hostess. Miss Elsie Olds, the president of the club, presided over a business session. A report was made by Mrs. Hoyt Trimble, chairman of the ways and means committee, which showed a gratifying fund realized from the recent benefit bridge party which was sponsored by that committee.

As February 22 was the eleventh anniversary of the music club, a history of the club was read by Miss Lucile Mason was read by the president. A list of the charter members was read, and attention was called to the fact that many of these members are actively affiliated with the club.

After the business meeting refreshments were served in the dining room, and the table was overlaid with a lovely lace cloth. Silver candlesticks held lighted tapers and a large birthday cake formed the attractive centerpiece. The cake was decorated in roses, the name of the club and the anniversary dates. Mrs. Raymond Williams poured coffee, and Mrs. Berry was assisted in serving by Mrs. Warren Lanham, of Augusta.

Dixie Chapter U. D. C. Presents Mrs. Dennis

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 24—Dixie chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, of Atlanta, presents Mrs. Frank A. Dennis for the office of first vice president of Georgia division. The election takes place at the 28th annual convention in October, to be held in Athens. Mrs. Dennis has served the chapter in every official capacity, and as president her work was outstanding. She has served the Georgia division as auditor and as third vice president, winning two cups in general convention. She has served the Georgia Society, Daughters of the American Revolution as chairman of important committees and is serving as chairman of conservation and thrift. She is a member of the Daughters of 1812 and Colonial Dames of 17th Century.

The official announcement carries the names of Mrs. Frank Everett, president; Mrs. Joseph S. Turner, honorary president; and Mrs. J. Marion Dunwoody, corresponding secretary.

Junior Hadassah Revue and Fashion Show To Be Given on February 28

A program of diversified entertainment will be presented in the Junior Hadassah revue and fashion show, directed by Sam Miller, director of the Oglethorpe University Players, on Tuesday evening, February 28, at 8:30 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's Club. # THE GUMPS—IN THE PRISON CELL I SIT

No More Orchids

By Grace Perkins

WHAT WAS HAPPENED.

Through the express wishes of her grandfather, Jerome Cedric, Ann Holt herself engaged to marry Prince Carlos. On the ship coming back from Europe, Ann falls in love with Tony Holt, a young lawyer connected with the law firm that handles Cedric's interests. Knowing of her as a flighty girl, Tony does not believe that she loves him, and leaves her without trying to get her address. When Ann returns home, she tells her father, Bill, about Tony; and he gets in touch with him, inviting him to dinner. All the while Ann has been in Europe, Bill has run into great financial stress, and is on the verge of seeing his bank fail. Although he knows that he can get aid from Cedric, a man of great wealth, he is determined not to do so, as he knows the old man is merely waiting for a chance to lord it over him. At the dinner party as arranged, Tony and Ann come to an understanding when he tells her that he is unable even to keep her in orchids. And Ann assures him that there'll be no more orchids. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Mr. Holt interrupted. "If I were you, I'd ask her myself."

"Guess I'd better," he took the suggestion and went to Ann's room. "Your father's got some crazy idea—"

"No, he hasn't," Ann backed away from him, but they fell helplessly to her arms. "What's the matter with you?"

"I—I've got to tell you I can't marry you."

Tony stepped up to her and took her roughly by the arm. "Say that again."

"I can't marry you, Tony." She had all she could do to go on. "I've decided to—I'd better marry Carlos. I tried to tell you last night. That's why I went to your house."

"And instead of telling me, you—"

he dropped his grip of her and turned away, unable to continue. Ann almost reached out to take him in her arms, but they fell helplessly to her side. He turned toward her again. "So it was all a fake. You don't love me."

With a cry, Ann exclaimed, "Oh, Tony, I do!"

Tony turned to her quickly. "Then why this idiotic act? Why do you say these stupid things?"

"I can't tell you," Ann replied. "It—it concerns someone else."

"Who? The Prince?"

"No, Tony, no! Please—I love you more than anything else in the world, but I can't marry you."

"I insist upon knowing why."

"You've got to believe me, I can't tell you why."

Tony looked at her baffled and enraged and then said slowly, "Then maybe I can tell you. The reason you agreed to your grandfather's plans in the first place is because you wanted that kind of a marriage. You only wanted me because I seemed hard to get. I tried to avoid you because I believed you weren't capable of anything but phony emotions. I was right. You got me, so now you can throw me into the discard, and go on with your original plan. I'll admit you put on a great act last night. But that wasn't love. You don't know what it is. For your own sake I hope you'll never find out. He became gravely formal. "But there's not a chance. I know you're very happy. Goodbye."

He turned and hurried out. In an anguished cry, Ann called "Tony!"

Three weeks later, the Prince arrived and reception followed reception. Carlos did not seem to please anybody except Cedric, and he was only pleased because the young man bore a title which he could bestow upon Ann.

"I've been trying to get somewhere with that girl," said Bill to his mother. "He wears me down."

"I'm going crazy trying to figure out why she's marrying him," said Mrs. Holt. "You should have seen her face while they fitted the wedding dress."

"The whole thing's got me stumped," Bill wearily declared.

Mrs. Holt put her hand fondly on his shoulder. "Don't let it lick you, son. Try to talk to her. My hunch is the nigger in the woodpile is your charming father-in-law. He seems to be the only person pleased about this marriage."

Tony had apparently dropped out of Ann's life. In fact she did not meet him again until they both were guests at a reception. Grandmother Holt had got the prince out of the way by insisting that he dance with her. There was no satisfactory outcome to the meeting of the two. Tony was cool, and casual.

"I remember dancing to this same tune one night with a girl," he said.

"Was she a nice girl?" Ann inquired.

"I thought so—then. We had a rather foolish conversation, about marriage and punning about her. I'm sorry it was foolish," Ann commented sincerely.

"In the light of what happened finally it was insane."

"What did happen finally?"

"We got divorced before we were married."

Ann's voice was low. "I'm sure it nearly broke her heart."

"The girl didn't have a heart," Tony said lightly.

They stopped dancing. Ann looked at him intently. "Are you sure of that?"

Brooklyn Paper Says
Gatti-Casazza Is 'Out'

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Eagle said today it had learned from "well-informed persons" in close touch with affairs that Gatti-Casazza would be replaced as general director of the Metropolitan Opera.

The management next season, the Eagle said it had learned, will be a triumvirate—Edward Johnson, the tenor; Edward Ziegler, at present assistant to Gatti-Casazza, and Earl Lewis, present treasurer and box office manager.

Coming just two days before the celebration by the opera staff of the impresario's twenty-fifth season, the report was immediately described as "unfounded" by Gatti-Casazza and by those named by the newspaper as his successors.
